A MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

With summer on our doorstep, we certainly need to be grateful for Mother Nature's attention to our needs. We began spring with concerns of drought, and fire across the province. Today, crops and gardens are in the soil and moisture has blessed the ground. It is truly amazing to watch our landscape breathe with life each year. Pastures filled with newborns, and the energy of spring. All providing promises our great bounty for all to enjoy.

The 2023 wildfire season was devastating for many communities. With this spring's heightened concerns of drought, AAAS was proactive in reaching out to our members to see who was prepared to part of emergency response should there be a need. We know that when required all of Ag Societies and their members will step up to meet any challenge and support their community. In response to our question "Which Ag Societies would be ready and willing to assist should evacuations be necessary?", we had dozens of responses. Another reason our members are amazing. AAAS created a special place on our website for the purpose of providing awareness of these essential services. We have since shared this information with Alberta Emergency Services and will continue to update the information as required. If you are interested in learning more about the webpage, or to add your Ag Society to the list of support ready organizations, click here to head to our website and register.

The AAAS Board went through a strategic planning period in March of this year. We want to give a shout out to Max Fritz.

Max has facilitated the organization's strategic planning for the last several updates. His knowledge and process has been a great advantage for the Board. Although the new strategic direction still needs review and approval, I am inspired by our continued focus on improving AAAS to enhance member services, and our attention to growing the vibrancy and resiliency of rural Alberta. The addition of several new Board members to the process and strengthened the organization's resolve in being the best we can be. We hope that our leadership and direction inspire our membership to seek their own excellence in serving their communities. I look forward to sharing the visionary document with all of AAAS's key stakeholders and partners very soon.

To support AAAS's future focus, the study being conducted by Richard Hudson, will bring to light critical data from Alberta's Primary Ag Societies. This information will ensure our association is focused on the most critical challenges and enabling the greatest opportunities for Agricultural Societies and rural communities. The full report has been broken into two separate initiatives allowing AAAS to manage our financial commitments. A preliminary report has been submitted by Mr. Hudson and is being reviewed by the Board. This report will be shared with our members and our key stakeholders, once it has been finalized. If your Ag Society wishes to contribute to the $60,000 investment of completing the reports, you can click here to head to our website and donate. To date, AAAS has received over $20,000 in donations from our members.

I'm Ok - The Cost of Injuries, Farm Safety Show is nearly ready to hit the road. It has been a winding road to get all of the key components together to make innovative series happen. Unfortunately, we have had to cancel some potential bookings because we were not ready to go. We are currently reviewing and training staff for the program and are confident we will be ready very soon. More information on costs and booking this amazing program for your event, community, or school, will be available on our website very soon. You can also email Imok@albertaagsocieties.ca for more information. Keep checking back as to the show's availability. Stay tuned.

The 2024 Alberta Open Farm Days program is well underway. I am extremely pleased to announce that we have our largest number of host locations in Open Farm Days history. These unique experiences will all have the advantage of the support programming provided by the Open Farm Days Program Team. The program provides information, education, resources, and support to assist host operators provide the best customer experiences possible, there by growing their business opportunities. A huge shout out to our Open Farm Days Team; Suzanne Kelly, Tannis Baker, Chris Ringuette, and our newest member Cameo Hanlon, in enhancing this amazing platform for the growth of agritourism in Alberta. We are in June, and well on our way with the summer event season. More than 3000 Agricultural Society events take place across Alberta every year. The extraordinary community minded people who invest their time, talent and treasure into ensuring the vibrancy of rural Alberta is alive and well. If you are a planner, helper, or supporter of these event I would like to thank you for all you do. Our society would be very different without your efforts.

On behalf of the Board and Staff of the AAAS, I wish everyone a safe and exciting summer.

AGRICULTURE AND IRRIGATION UPDATE

From the desk of Carmen Andrew, Director, Rural Programming Section, Agriculture and Irrigation.

Agricultural Society annual operating grants

We are anticipating that all annual operating grants will be out either by the time you read this or very soon.

Agricultural Society Infrastructure and Revitalization Program (ASIRP)

The 2024/25 round of ASIRP funding will be open either by the time you read this or very soon.

All agricultural societies will be notified when the program application intake opens.

This is a $2.5 million/year capital grant program to support major repairs at existing agricultural facilities. The program is intended to help address issues related to aging agricultural society infrastructure to promote one or more of the following outcomes:

- Extend the useful life of a facility or infrastructure
- Address health or safety issues
- Improve functionality or service delivery
- Reduce operating costs

Visit the ASIRP page for more information

Alberta releases drought response plan

Alberta's new 2024 Drought Response Plan will help guide the province through any and all drought conditions. This is a plan covering everything from conservation plans and water-sharing agreements to declaring an emergency and prioritizing water for human health and safety. It will help make sure that Albertans, communities, farmers, ranchers and businesses get the support they need, whatever the weather.

Century Farm and Ranch Award

The Century Farm and Ranch Award was established in 1993 to honor families who have continuously owned and actively operated the same land for 100 years or more. These families receive an honorary bronze plaque to mark this significant milestone.

In 2018, the program introduced a 125-year farm recognition component to acknowledge the oldest farms and ranches dating back to 1884. Recipients of this honor receive a certificate presented in a formal folder and signed by the Premier and Minister of Agriculture and Irrigation (AGI).

To date, more than 2,000 families have received the Century Farm and Ranch Award, and over 60 families have received the 125-year farm recognition.

In 2020, AGI launched a Century Farm and Ranch digital interactive dashboard, allowing users to search for award recipients by municipality, family name, establishment year, and more.

The application process has been streamlined, with the program area conducting all necessary research to verify establishment and continuous ownership documents.

WILD FIRE EVACUEE SUPPORT AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY LOCATIONS

As we remain hopeful for favorable weather this summer and that rain will help prevent forest fires, we are also preparing for the possibility of wildfires and potential evacuations. We have compiled a list and map of over 30 Ag Society facility spaces for evacuees, campers, and livestock in case of an emergency.

If you have space to offer for trailers, camping, or livestock during an evacuation, please inform us about the facilities your Ag Society can provide and the support you can offer.
